The children play in pairs or groups. Each child takes turns at spinning the CD spinner piece. They choose a card from the category the arrow points to and complete the challenge. If you want to include a competitive element, the children could write their names on a piece of paper and score points. Points can be given for completing the challenge correctly, and for the first player to guess the sentence for the 'Jot It' and 'Draw It' challenges. After a given time limit, stop the game and count the points. Ask for a demonstration of the funniest moments of the game.
